The Wrinkle in Time Trilogy

The Wrinkle in Time Trilogy, consisting of A Wrinkle in Time, A Wind in the Door, and A Swiftly Tilting Planet, introduces us to the captivating Murry family. Meg, the brilliant and headstrong heroine, embarks on a daring mission with her younger brother Charles Wallace and their friend Calvin O'Keefe to rescue their missing father from the clutches of an evil force.

Guided by the eccentric Mrs. Whatsit, Mrs. Who, and Mrs. Which, the trio travels through the universe by "tessering," a form of time travel that allows them to overcome the limitations of space and time. They encounter fantastical creatures, alien worlds, and profound truths about the nature of good and evil.

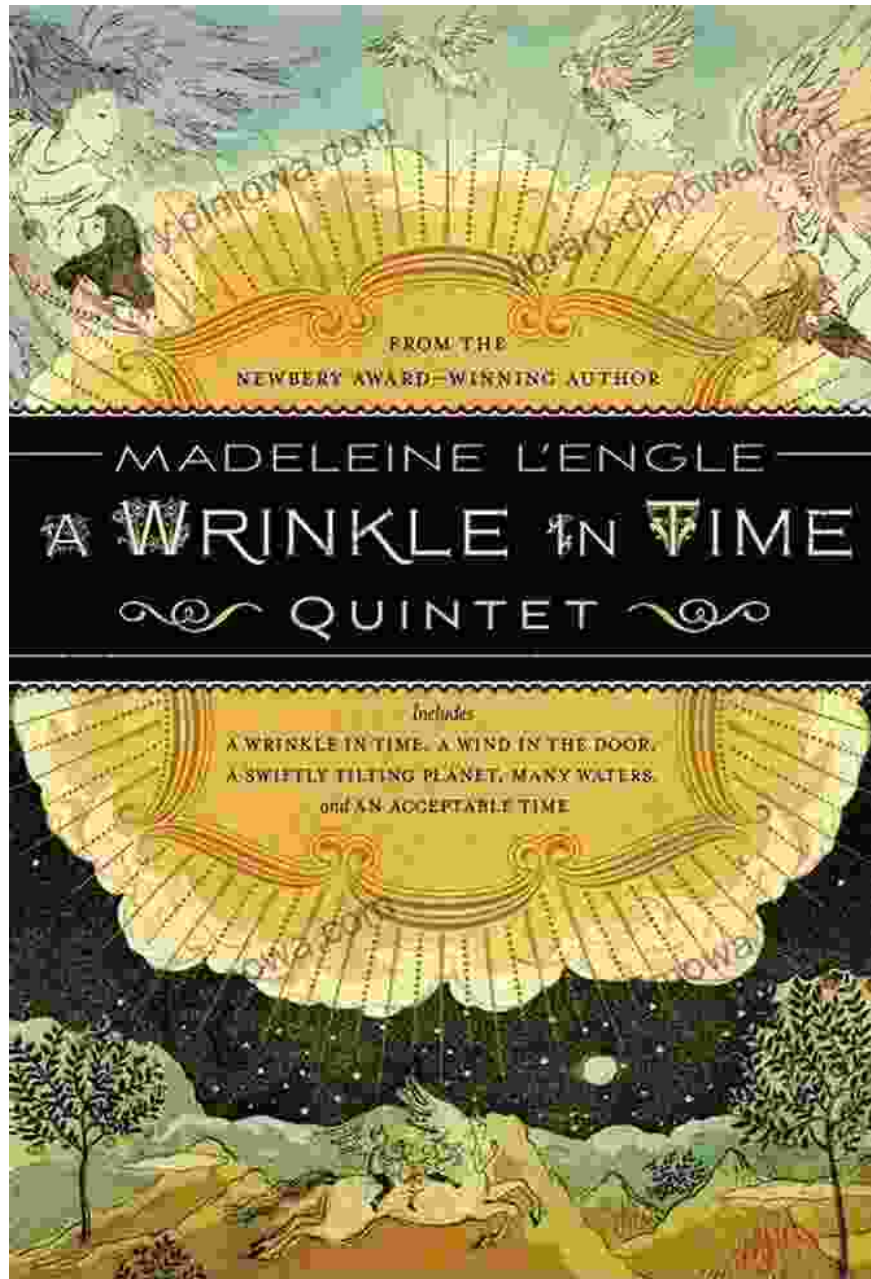

The Wrinkle in Time Quintet

The Wrinkle in Time Quintet expands upon the trilogy, introducing new characters and deepening the exploration of themes such as the importance of family, the power of imagination, and the interconnectedness of all living beings.

In Many Waters, Meg and her family face the consequences of their adventures in the trilogy. The Arm of the Starfish follows Meg's son Charles Wallace as he embarks on a dangerous quest to rescue his father from an ancient evil.

Dragons in the Waters and A House Like a Lotus continue Charles Wallace's adventures as he explores the complexities of time, consciousness, and the nature of creation. The final installment, An Acceptable Time, brings the entire series to a satisfying , tying together all the threads that have been woven throughout the previous books.
