

Lone Ranger: The Disney Junior Novel Excerpt: The Lone Ranger to the Rescue!

Chapter 1: The Lone Ranger to the Rescue!

The stagecoach was racing across the prairie, its wheels pounding against the rough ground. Inside, the passengers were huddled together, their faces pale with fear. They had heard stories about the outlaws who roamed these parts, and they knew that if the stagecoach was stopped, they would be in serious trouble.

Suddenly, the stagecoach came to a screeching halt. The passengers gasped and looked out the windows. A group of masked men were standing in the road, their guns drawn.

"This is a robbery!" one of the outlaws shouted. "Everybody out!"

The passengers scrambled out of the stagecoach and raised their hands. The outlaws herded them together and started to go through their belongings.

One of the passengers, a young boy named Billy, was watching the outlaws with wide eyes. He was terrified, but he knew that he had to do something. He couldn't let them get away with this.

Billy looked around and saw a large rock. He picked it up and threw it at the outlaws. The rock hit one of the outlaws in the head, and he fell to the ground.

The other outlaws turned and saw Billy. They raised their guns and fired. Billy ducked behind a rock and the bullets whizzed past his head.

Just then, a lone rider appeared on the horizon. He was dressed in black and rode a white horse. He had a mask on his face and a gun in his hand.

The Lone Ranger!

The Lone Ranger rode up to the outlaws and fired his gun. The outlaws were surprised and confused. They had never seen the Lone Ranger before.

The Lone Ranger kept firing, and the outlaws started to fall. One by one, they were shot or knocked unconscious.

Finally, only one outlaw was left standing. He raised his gun and fired at the Lone Ranger. The Lone Ranger ducked and the bullet missed him.

The Lone Ranger then fired his gun and hit the last outlaw in the arm. The outlaw dropped his gun and fell to the ground.

The Lone Ranger had saved the day!

The passengers cheered and thanked the Lone Ranger. Billy ran up to the Lone Ranger and shook his hand.

"Thank you," Billy said. "You're a real hero."

The Lone Ranger smiled and tipped his hat. "You're welcome," he said. "Now, let's get you all back to safety."

The Lone Ranger helped the passengers back into the stagecoach and then rode off into the sunset. Billy watched him go, and he knew that he would never forget the day that the Lone Ranger saved the day.
